Atomic Energy Electric Power Film At Rotary

Albany Rotary Club is planning to present a most interesting film on the production of commercial electric power from energy developed by an atomic reactor. Title of the film is "License No. 1," and it will show the building and operation of the new Nuclear Power Plant at Vallecitos, near Pleasanton.

The Vallecitos plant is a joint project of the General Electric Company and the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. It is a small plant as power plants go these days, with an output of approximately 4,500 kilowatts, but was built as a model for other larger plants to be built in this area. A 60,000 kilowatt PG&E nuclear power plant is now under construction at Eureka.

The film is being presented by the PG&E through arrangements made with Henry Lennenger, district manager, Berkeley. Hal Weller, Editor of the Albany Times, will be chairman of the day, while President Herb Foley will preside. The luncheon, as usual will be held at Spenger's in Berkeley.

Last week Paul Bryan, former Superintendent of Albany Schools, who has just returned from an extended tour of Europe, gave an interesting talk on what he saw and heard there.

one stop banking

Safety and convenience are two things that make one-stop banking so popular. Our safe deposit service is a good example. Here is sound protection for those valuables and papers you can't afford to lose. There is convenience in having them all in one safe place, too. Next time you're at Mechanics, ask about safe deposit — one more reason you'll like one-stop banking.

Albany School Board Adopts Record Budget

The Albany School Board at its last meeting approved by a 4 to 1 vote a budget of $1,255,513 for the 1958-59 fiscal year. This will result in an increase of 43 cents to a total of $3.18 per $100 of assessed valuation. In addition to this, of course, the schools will receive 35 cents from the city, an arbitrary fixed sum collected by the city. The $3.18 will appear on an Albany property owner's county tax bill.

Board member Max Kelley cast the only opposing vote on the new budget. He declared, "In view of the closeness of the last (school bond) election I think the school district should be more frugal in its spending. Had we passed the last election by an overwhelming majority, I would not hesitate to vote for this budget." He referred to the fact that the vote last year setting the maximum rate at $2.95 won by a scant margin of approximately 200.

Board members Dr. Leslie L. Bennett and Mrs. Rae Volz expressed the opinion that any reduction in the school budget would seriously effect the education of Albany children. Dr. Bennett said that the salary increases of $30,000 granted teachers in the district, "largely fixed the size of the budget."

The new tax levy is 23 cents over the district's maximum, the overage resulting from an over-ride tax covering employee retirement and community services. The override cannot be spent to support the district's educational program.

Wide Variety Of Shows Scheduled At Cal. State Fair

It's like walking through Dreamland these days to take a stroll in the Counties Building at the California State Fair and Exposition in Sacramento. There is a golden giant in two pieces, a blue crocodile, Dutch wooden shoes about 112 in size, a seven-foot golden crown, a pair of huge and beautiful horse stables in paper bags, parts of a spaceship, a lonely pink cow — an assortment hard to imagine.

In the next ten days, the waiting will be over and the strange objects will take their places in the pattern of the spectacular counties exhibits. The huge building is a bedlam now, with harried workmen scurrying about and the noise of hammer and saw and drill echoing through the vast space.

More material is arriving daily and little by little the exhibits are taking shape. Forty-four counties are participating this year and a study of the various plans indicates that the displays will be more breath-taking than ever.

If history repeats itself, and it always has in this case, more than 90 per cent of all fairgoers will view the lavish exhibits and refresh their appreciation of the bounty of nature bestowed on the Golden State.

The widespread scope of the Fair was demonstrated again this week with the announcement of the pictures selected to be shown in the annual photography show. A score of Californians won places for their works but were outnumbered by outsiders. Nineteen other states will be represented, as will 12 foreign nations, with ten photos being selected from Hong Kong alone, taken by 10 different men. Winning places in the show are camera artists from Hungary, the Island of Guernsey,

Chamber Chatter

By IRENE GROVE

Reports are coming in that all committees are hard at work on their various projects to make Albany's Fiftieth Anniversary a "to-be-remembered" event. Quite a few bearded strangers are appearing on our streets... how about the rest of you men? Have you seen the "cute" signs for the Whiskerino Contest? Items for the old timers exhibits are being rounded up and window posters and bumper strips are ordered. There will be a meeting of the merchants to decide on business displays, Wednesday, August 20... place to be announced later. By the way a Parade Marshal has not yet been found. Doesn't someone know a person born in Albany fifty years ago?

We are doing a lot of looking back in planning the Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration and realize how much Albany has progressed from the little group of citizens that incorporated this city with such dreams back in 1908. But we have to look forward too.

Let's not kid ourselves into thinking that a city grows just because men are in business or work in a city, pay taxes and build buildings.

Cities grow because men work together on a well developed plan and program. In Albany, firms and individuals are working under the name of "Chamber of Commerce" to make business better. It could be called "The Booster Club" or any other name, the name is immaterial. The organization only gives an opportunity for concerted and cooperative action.

These firms and individuals believe in Albany's future. They are putting money and effort into a program of development that will build a bigger and a happier city. The main issue is not whether we belong to the Chamber of Commerce or not, but whether we are doing our share in helping to develop Albany.

When this organization helps to improve business conditions through retail promotions, improved street lighting, development of a small craft harbor, back legislation for betterment of our businessmen, it helps Albany. When the advantages and opportunities of Albany are advertised through participation in outside events such as the Alameda County Fair, promotion of the Outdoor Motor Marathon, through correspondence all over the country and through advertising souvenirs, THAT BRINGS BUSINESS.

These are only a few of the projects that the Albany Chamber of Commerce is working on. Let's all "put in" — work in harmony and push in the same direction at the same time. LET'S NOT KID OURSELVES!

Board of Directors of your Chamber of Commerce will meet Thursday noon, August 14 at the Roberta Cafe. Report on the meeting next week.

More chatter next week. "Yours truly," Your Chamber of Commerce Manager.

Albany Building Permits Show Gains For July

The same firm also is erecting two new residences at 835 and 837 Solano Avenue at a cost of $11,865 each. J. D. Carter, owner, and Charles Widich, builder, is constructing a new residence at 350 Jackson Street at a cost of $11,344. C. Lane & Co., contractor, and Dr. Gunnar Larson, owner, is building a four-plex at 1654 Solano Avenue at a cost of $24,286. Metals Disintegrating Co., Inc., owner and builder, is constructing a new warehouse at a cost of $8,500.

The city public works and engineering department has been kept busy in construction, repairs and improvements to streets, sewers, sidewalks, etc.

New Officers Take Over For Legion Group

The newly elected and installed officers of Albany Legion Post No. 292 will take over this Friday night when members of the Post gather at the Veterans Memorial Building, Portland and Ramona Avenues. The program will start at 8 o'clock.

Commander William H. Jones will preside and will announce the names of all committee chairmen and committeemen for ratification by the members. Ex-officio chairmen of standing committees are: Harold Ogden, membership; Irving Jones, entertainment; Alvin Drozda, budget, and Richard Ball, Post welfare.

Friday night will also see the official opening of the Canteen under the auspices of the Post, with the Uniformed Color Guard and members of the House Committee on hand to supervise and serve as hosts in the canteen and rumpus room. LeRoy W. Holland, Color Guard sergeant is the head host, assisted by other members of the Guard, Richard Chalais, Robert Morgan, Gilbert Sutherland, William Jones, David Townsend, Donald Karns and Arthur Miller.

Last official appointments of Junior Past Commander Richard Ball before yielding up the gavel, was members of the committee on the forthcoming Albany Golden Anniversary celebration in September. General Committee: LeRoy Holland, Gilbert Sutherland and Walter L. Holland; Post Float and Marching Unit: C. Edward Johnson, Edward Hanahan, Fred Klein and Donald Karns.

CITY PLANS COMMITTEE ON HARBOR PROPOSAL

The city council this week discussed and approved appointment of a committee to study plans for a small craft harbor to service the many small boats owned in Albany, and to follow through on the matter. The proposed committee would include a member of the Planning & Zoning Commission and the city engineer, together with three citizens. It was agreed that Police Chief Jensen should be one of the citizen members due to the fact that he has been a leading figure for months in promotion of the idea.

It was also brought out that the City of Richmond had long sought such a small craft harbor, but has been unable to obtain property suitable for such development. One site sought by Richmond was north of Pt. Isabel. City Engineer McAuley is to check with Richmond authorities with a view to a possible co-operative deal on such a harbor.

Eddie West, Albany boat owner and builder, was present at the council meeting and gave a brief outline of present Bay facilities available to small boat owners. He said a small harbor with boat launching facilities could be developed for approximately $5,000 and that it would be self-supporting.

The proposal that an ordinance be passed prohibiting the sale or distribution of candy or beverages that are enclosed in wax or paraffine containers, was again postponed to provide time for a search of old city records. It was suggested the city might already have a "litter" ordinance which would cover the nuisance plea regarding wax on the streets and sidewalks.

The sum of $100 was granted the local Native Daughters of the Golden West to aid in building a float to compete in the Admission Day parade. The amount had been set aside in the budget for this purpose.

The Albany Chamber of Commerce was granted the sum of $1,800 toward its annual expense of operation in promoting the welfare of the city. This sum also was included in the budget. Mrs. Zahn voted "No."

Recommendation of the Planning & Zoning Commission that the south side yard at 980 Ventura Avenue be waived from 5 feet to 3 feet for garage extension purposes, was heard and a hearing set for August 25.

Recommendation of the commission that the side yard at 1138 Stannage Avenue be waived from 5 feet to 3 feet, and that the setback be reduced from 15 feet to 7 feet to allow for construction of a bedroom and bath above existing garage, will have a public hearing before the council on August 25.

Councilwoman Kathy Zahn was appointed to represent the city on the Engineering Advisory Committee of the East Bay Traffic Commission. This passed 3 to 2, with Councilmen Blank and Keck voting "No."

Rezoning of Lot 20, Portion of Lot 19, Block 17, Regents Park Map No. 4 (1137 Talbot Avenue), scheduled for first reading, was held over on a technicality when the city attorney called attention to the fact that plans for a carport to accompany the building plans, had not been approved by City Engineer McAuley.

Resolution No. 58-73 providing for the retention of barriers at the northern extremities of Cornell and Evelyn Avenues, was unanimously approved.

Variety Of Shows
At Cal. State Fair

Portugal, Japan and other na- tions.

Ninety-one photos will be shown in the display, the 18th North American International Photo Exhibit.

Fair Facts In Brief: Rehears- als will start soon for the always- popular free concerts by the State Fair orchestra, led by Da- vid Rose, the noted composer- arranger-conductor . . . Three ele- phants, including one baby, will be on hand for another free show, the Rudy Bros. Circus . . . More general admission seats than ever before will be available for the spectacular Horse Show . . . Prizewinning California fas- hions, being selected at a competi- tive showing this week, will be modeled for visitors throughout the Fair . . . A series of out- standing acts are in rehearsal, and will be announced soon, for the Night Shows, in support of the three nationally-famed stars, Johnnie Ray, Nat "King" Cole and Jimmie Rodgers . . . First entries have been received for the NASCAR championship stock race scheduled September 7, with about 40 top drivers due to com- pete . . . Exhibits by the Armed Forces are starting to shape up, and among the things to see will be an F-104, fighter plane, known as "the missile with a man in it," and the latest thing in Marine Corps amphibious craft, the LVTH6 . . .

With entries in the livestock divisions still being tabulated, in- dications are that early forecasts of 5,000 head were accurate. More than 4,900 have been re- corded, with stragglers yet to be added.

And indications are that the prediction of 10,000 entries in the poultry, pigeon and rabbits divi- sion will be equalled or surpassed, setting a new record.

As a matter of fact, records are being, or will be, smashed in many a phase of the Fair — in number of entries, in entertain- ment, in beauty, in education, in the infinite variety of things to see and enjoy.

It's going to be a great Fair.

The Richard Wilsons, of 14 Guerrero Street, lost their fox terrier, "Spot," on the last day of their vacation in the Sierra. When they searched the area around their cabin, they found no trace of the dog. As tears streamed down the faces of their sons, Rich, 8, and Steve, 5, the Wilsons sadly drove home. When they arrived, they decided to phone the ranger station near the cabin, on the slim chance that Spot had been seen. Said a ranger: "A stray fox terrier wandered up here an hour ago. I'll put him on the line." Then came the sound of Spot's barking across the miles—turning a tragedy into the happiest day of the year for the Wilsons.

HAPPY, AND UNHAPPY! Here are four of the children at the Albany Child Care Center in a typical setting. Julie Williams, 5, at left with the rag doll. Lana Gulutson, holding the tray, seems to be unhappy for some reason. She, also is a five-year-old. Mike Lewis with the telephone appears to be enjoying the conversation. He, too, is 5. At the piano is Christine Close, 6, of University Village, Albany. — Gazette photo.

Albany Y.M.C.A. Summer Fun Program Includes All-around Championships

The Albany Y.M.C.A. Summer Fun Program swings into the final weeks of the vacation with the annual All-around Championship events, according to Elmer F. Coble, executive secretary.

The events are much in line with the National physical fitness program which are, push-ups, 50 yard dash, sit-ups, basketball throws one minute limit, standing broad jump, softball target throw, hop-step-jump, pull-ups, 440 yard run, and free exercises (series of six). Winners of each event will be given a colorful figure Victory ribbon; winner of the highest number of points will be presented a wall plaque.

The boys and girls classes are divided by grade level, 3rd grade and under, 4th grade and over.

The teen-age groups have been having an interesting time with judo, boxing, wrestling, handball and basketball; the girls with badminton and volleyball.

The fall and winter program will start Monday, September 8; the swimming instruction, life saving and water safety, Saturday morning, September 20; the synchronized swimming class begins Thursday, September 18, 6:30 p.m.

Plans are under way for an open house program review during the week of September 22, the week Albany celebrates its 50th birthday as a city, and the 37th birthday of the YMCA services.

Wave Recruiter To be in Bay Area

C. W. Ellington Jr., local Navy Recruiter, announced today that on Wednesday, August 20, the local Navy WAVE representative will be on duty at the local Navy Recruiting Station, Room 224, Post Office Building, 13th and Alice Streets, Oakland, and will interview young women interested in the Navy WAVES, Regular and Reserve. She will be on duty between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Any young women interested may contact the local Navy recruiter at the Main Post Office Bldg., 13th and Alice Streets, Oakland, or call HI 4-2668.

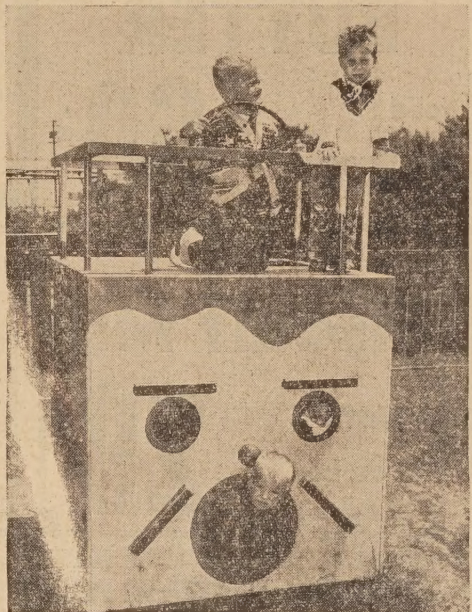

Navy Will Enlist Law Graduates

C. W. Ellington Jr., your local Navy Recruiter, recently suggested that as the American Bar Association Examinations draw near, law school graduates should consider their plans for the future in respect to their military obligation. The Navy now allows young lawyers to enter the Naval Officer Candidate School, Newport, R.I. as legal specialists.

Upon completion of the four months OCS program, the lawyer is commissioned with the rank of Lieutenant Junior Grade and has the prospect of being assigned a Navy billet in the legal field. The normally stringent eye sight requirements of the Navy are relaxed in the case of legal specialists.

Information regarding the legal program can be obtained by contacting your local Navy Recruiting Station, Room 224, Post Office Building, 13th and Alice Streets, Oakland.

Early Marines wore black leather stocks as part of the uniform, hence the term "Leather-necks." The hair was worn queued and powdered according to the custom of the times.

Oddities in U.S. Laws for Motorists Noted by Auto Club

Ever since the first few horseless carriages started chugging and sputtering along our highways, angry farmers and other responsible citizens have been thinking up laws to try to keep the motorists in line. Some of these laws, points out the National Automobile Club, have been quite quaint and some of these quaint laws are still on the books.

Take, for instance, the law in Lawrence, Kansas. It says that you can't drive along the street with bees in your bonnet — real bees, that is.

In Utah the right of way is always strictly for the birds. Take it away from the littlest chickadee and you're in for trouble.

In Memphis, Tennessee, you'd better not let the local officer catch you driving while you're asleep. There's a law against that.

If you plan to drive into Tacoma, Washington, to rob a bank, injure or murder someone, you'd better report your plan to the local police before you cross the city line, or the judge will throw that violation at you too.

In the early days in Pennsylvania the angry farmers formed the Anti-Automobile Society and that group drew up some fancy rules. Any motorist driving along a country road at night was obliged to stop every mile, send up a signal rocket, wait ten minutes for the road to be cleared, and then proceed with caution. Any motorist who sighted a team of horses coming towards him had to pull well off the road, cover his car with a blanket or canvas that blended with the surrounding countryside, and let the horses pass. If the horses were skittish and wouldn't pass, the motorist had to take his car apart piece by piece and hide the pieces under the nearest bush.

In Trenton, Missouri, it's against the law to drive an automobile after dark.

In Green Bay, Wisconsin, let your car drip some oil on the pavement and you're fined something like five or ten dollars per drip.

In one small New England town they really tried to be fast one on the fast drive. A local constable posted a sign that read: "The speed limit here is a secret. Motorists breaking it will be fined ten dollars."

These laws are on the books, but in many parts of the country today you'd better believe them if you want to stay on the right side of the law.

Aspects of Law in Child Accidents

When children are nearby, the law holds that an adult must expect them to behave like children and not like adults. When a driver, for example, sees a ball bounce into the street, he should be prepared to see a child dash after it. So the driver must use "ordinary care" to see whether children are near his car to keep from hurting them, especially in places where children are likely to gather, like schools, playgrounds, and residential areas. You cannot predict what a child may do, and so under the law a driver should be set to act quickly. They may be thoughtless and impulsive.

In a recent case a twelve-year-old boy was riding his bike. A driver struck and injured him as he started his car from a parking place on church grounds where children were playing.

At first the twelve-year-old lost his lawsuit, but the district court of appeal called for a new trial. It said: It is only sensible to exercise greater care for the safety of children than for adults, their conduct being unpredictable. The presence of children in itself should warn the driver to take care for their safety, especially if he knows they are around, even though he did not see the child.

Here the driver knew that children were in the area where he had parked; he saw them in the playground and saw the bikes parked nearby. He knew that children rode their bikes in the area; he himself had warned them about it.

This does not apply merely to automobile accidents, but to anyone working around children.

Chairman (she will pick her own committee).

MUSICAL STANDOUT—David Rose, known as a "triple-threat" musician because of his ability as a composer, director and arranger, will lead the State Fair orchestra at the California State Fair and Exposition in Sacramento August 27 - September 7. Rose, whose "Holiday for Strings" is world famous, along with other of his compositions, was cheered by thousands for his work with the Fair orchestra last year. The daily concerts are among the scores of Fair shows which are open to the public free of charge.

Dangerous tools, structures that could fall down or cave in, should always be a signal for people to take "ordinary" care if children are likely to be around.

Where children are involved, ordinary care should become special care so that their lack of experience doesn't get them in trouble.

Now is The Time To Think About Lawn Problems

This is the time of the year when many gardeners view their lawn with a critical eye... and perhaps a sinking heart. "Cheer up," says the California Association of Nurserymen, for oftentimes an otherwise healthy lawn may be suffering from some minor ailment that only needs diagnosis and treatment to be restored to its former virile condition.

However, if the trouble with your lawn is due to such a basic fault as poor drainage or improper preparation of the soil, it may pay you in the long run to start from scratch.

Before you begin, this might be a good time to consider putting in a sprinkler system. Leveling and grading the lawn area should precede this work. Ra-

Paved Roads in U.S. Now 2,300,000 Miles

In 1900 there were less than 1,000 miles of hard-surfaced roads in the U.S. Today there are over 2,300,000 miles, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Roll again and wet down with a fine spray. Cover with peat moss or a good quality steer manure and keep moist until grass seed has germinated. This is a particularly important point and one that cannot be emphasized too strongly. The seed covering must not be allowed to dry any time. This may require constant attention particularly if you plant your lawn immediately preceding a hot spell. Final reminder - do not establish a sprinkler system until you are established.
